NEW 4 Iron Garden Hurdles 47" High
Help your veggies reach new heights with this set of Four 47" Tall Garden Hurdles. Climbing vegetables like tomatoes, cucumbers, beans, and sweet peas will thrive on these supportive hurdles. Push the hurdles securely into the soil at the base of your plants to encourage upward growth. Initially, some plants may need to be tied to the hurdle in order to coax them upwards. But once they start to verticalize, you will be thrilled with the results. Climbing vegetables tend to have a richer bounty, are generally easier to harvest, and require less weeding overall. 89A05.59 Four Iron Garden Hurdles $79.00

NEW Classic Iron Garden Edging Hurdles 24½" High, Set of 4
These elegant hurdles are perfect for garden edging, dividers, plant protection, or giving climbing plants something to climb! Not only do they frame gardens beautifully, but they offer protection from pesky canines and unsupervised visitors. The classic x 10" width x 5" high bin with four side compartments that are perfect for smaller tools, twine, hardware, seeds, etc. A long compartment on the other side is great for larger pruners and digging tools. Made in the USA. 43B02.16 Garden Tool Tote $84.00

NEW Traditional Seed Planting Set
This fascinating set of traditional beechwood seed planting tools is really quite extraordinary. The dibber is a common device for creating uniform holes in soil to accommodate seeds or bulbs. The two-piece seed sower, on the other hand, is a little more unusual. It's a ridged dowel with a long central groove running the length of the tool. Your seeds go in that groove, then you run the accompanying "mallet" down the bottom of the tool. As it bounces from ridge to ridge, the vibrations shake the seeds loose one at a time. It's kind of magical and, yes, a little musical. 78A06.01 Traditional Seed Planting Set $15.00

Wrought Iron Plant Hanger
Transform any space into a delightful botanical sanctuary with this masterfully crafted Wrought Iron Plant Hanger. Made in Poland by a local company responsible for municipal ironwork—think park benches and streetlamps—the superior craftsmanship is clear that this is not your average hardware store hanger. That robust construction ensures that it will withstand the test of time. Whether you want to showcase your plants indoors or out, this hanger is designed to suit any environment. Wall-mounted, it extends 12" from the wall, providing ample space for your plants to flourish. The virtually unbreakable hanger is 9½" high. 36E02.01 Wrought Iron Plant Hanger $38.00

Grampa's Weeder
This tool was actually invented in 1913, and was very popular in the Northwest (where it was well known) until WWII halted production. Now rediscovered after 70 years, it's a blessing to anyone who likes their weeding effortless - with no bending, no hand pulling, and no kneeling - period. Simply center the two iron gripping prongs over the weed (footpad lever can point in either direction), press into the ground, and then remove your foot, leaning the 39" long hardwood handle in the direction of the footpad lever. Out comes the weed, root and all. This is a simple, effortless tool to use. It's hard to imagine working without it and it's a great value for a lifetime tool. 65P01.01 Grampa's Weeder $39.50

NEW 82' Pink Non-Kinking Watering Hose
These astonishing new hoses are created from five layers of 75% recycled materials, using a process where PVC is extracted from old garden hoses and reused as a completely new element. But the fact that this is an environmentally responsible garden hose is only the start. The five-layer construction is engineered to be anti-torsion, anti-kink, and non-deformable, with a memory system that means the hose will always spring back to its original shape. It's almost impossible to stop the flow of water while in use. The soft-touch texture feels great in the hand, and the 8 bar/116 psi rating provides plenty of power. Cadmium-, barium-, and lead-free, the hose has anti-UV properties and is operable in weather down to -15 degrees. The 82' long ¾" hose comes in an eye-catching fuchsia and includes a free 3-position watering nozzle and quick connectors. 68C02.05 82' Pink Watering Hose $87.00

Pruning & Tree Care

SALE A/ Ratcheting Hand Pruner

This clever update on the classic hand pruner provides additional power to your grip by means of an internal ratchet. As you meet maximum resistance while exerting pressure on any difficult material, just relax your grip a bit, and the ratchet resets with the jaws in place, giving you the power for an extra squeeze. And it features a nifty little oil pad that slides into the handle, allowing you to clean and oil the blade on the go. All cast aluminum, with rubber grip on the handle backing. Enclosed scissor-style finger loop provides added protection. The blade is carbon steel with non-stick coating and can be replaced easily via a bolt in the side of the handle. We suggest a replacement blade to allow you to keep working while you sharpen or repair the original. Maximum opening 7/8". Also, now available is our leather sheath as an add on. The pistol-style holster hangs on your belt via a 2" steel clip, so you always have your pruner at hand as you move around the yard and garden. (It will work for other pruners as well.) Made from raw, tanned leather, heavy-stitched with solid metal rivets by a purveyor of top-class arborist and logging tools.

The high-carbon bypass-blade system, which has as a glowing, elegant look, offers almost a full inch of capacity, and the upper blade is titanium nitride coated (giving it that "gold" color) to preserve unusual sharpness. F/ French-Made Gardening Pruners

In our opinion, there are none that are better. The Premium Pruner is 8" long and is made using the finest forged steel and precisely ground by the in France maker (a medium-sized family company that markets primarily in Europe) for smooth, fast cutting. The real leather grips indicate the measure of respect that the maker insists be given his work. A belt-loop leather real holster is also available to keep the tool at the ready by your side. The smaller 6" Bypass Trimming Pruner is made from the same materials but the smaller size of the cutting jaws dictates that limited cutting capacity and are therefore not as elaborately ground as are the Premium Pruners. Nor do they need to be as the virtue of this smaller size is its maneuverability and its ability to work in tight spaces during close trimming. It's a very popular tool for these reasons. Optional sheaths are available as an add-on. See our website.

G/ Large Folding Pruning Saw

This is the best Japanese tooth-pattern folding work saw we have discovered. The blade is a full 10" long with a tooth depth of 3/8" - so this is a very fast cutting tool. Made of oil-tanned steer hide for softness, and lock-stitched and riveted for durability. Features nickel-plated hardware and a 2" clip that you can attach it to a work belt, or if you prefer, it has belt slots to wear directly on your belt. Hole punched center-top to hang on a hook when storing, or for a carabiner to attach to a work vest. The scabbard measures 3 3/4" wide x 7" tall, 12" tall overall. The design can also work as a trellis for climbing plants like beans and peas that will entwine themselves around the cloche. Measures 15¾" diameter at the base, and stands approximately 21½" high. Some variation in height is to be expected because of the flexibility of the material.

I/ Galvanized Garden Bed

Raised garden beds are deservedly popular for several reasons: they remove the need to bend over or kneel at ground level (a boon for those with back or joint issues); they allow us to bypass soil and ground issues; they are less prone to weeds; since you are starting with your own soil mixture you can optimize the soil to what you're growing without excessive testing or Correction. These are open bottom beds so there is an exchange of nutrients and water doesn't pool inside of them. They have a neat, tidy, attractive look, and are often an excellent choice for urban or suburban locations. Our raised Garden Beds will last season after season. Four corner braces connect the four corrugated galvanized walls with all hardware included. The result is a strong, roomy galvanized metal frame for all your veggies, herbs, etc. that will hold up under all weather conditions, and unlike wood, will not need replacing every few years. We suggest after positioning them, tap the corners to set them in location.

Our handsome copper Window Planters have an attractive handmade hammered pattern. We have two lengths to suit different display needs. The benefits of a copper Planter Box are significant. Copper activates enzymes in plants for healthy growth, it's also anti-microbial, anti-pest (slugs for one hate copper), and anti-corrosion. Because these Planters do not have drainage holes, you'll want to have a gravel or other drainage layer at the bottom (or drill holes underneath), depending on what kind of plant you're growing. #### E/ Terracotta Plant Hydrators Hand Made in France

Low-fired, porous terracotta containers have been used for centuries as a simple and highly effective irrigation technology, sometimes referred to as "ollas". When left unglazed, filled with water and placed in earth, the natural phenomenon of soil moisture tension regulates the amount of water that seeps through the clay walls: in dry soil, more water is absorbed by the surrounding dirt, and in wet soil, the water remains in the vessel. Handmade in the Loire Valley of France and shows the individual marks and craftsmanship. The Medium Teardrop-Shaped one measures 9" high x 5" wide and holds 4.75 cups of water it's suited for either a planter or raised bed. Designed so the tapered tear drop section is submerged in the soil and the rest is above ground. The Large Vase-Shaped Hydrator will do well in larger raised garden beds or directly in the ground (these are designed to go into the ground almost to the lip of the vase). It measures 11 ¾" high x 5 ½" wide and holds 13 cups of water. Ideal for water conservation & promotes healthy plant roots. Made in France.

F/ Jug-Shaped Terracotta Garden Hydrator

Bury it in a planter or garden bed, leaving just the neck above the soil. As the soil around it dries, soil tension and plant roots pull the water out; when the soil around it is moist, the water stays inside the vessel. This consistent slow watering is also far better for the plants health as it creates a strong root structure. Brilliant, efficient, and simple. With much of the country in a multi-year drought, water conservation is on many peoples' minds. This garden hydrator, made in England, is an efficient and sustainable method for keeping your garden beds and potted plants hydrated without wasting water. 11¾" high and 6" diameter, holds 1.75 liters (7.4 cups).

H/ Gardener's Canvas Arm Protectors

Thorns and other abrasive elements can scratch and cut when pruning or collecting flowers or produce (especially roses and berries). Long shirt sleeves can help, but what really works are these long (17½") heavy-duty, thorn resistant Canvas Sleeves. Reach in as far as you need to without concern. Use them as companions with garden gloves. Can fit up to a 16½" arm circumference.

I/ Huckleberry Comb Berry Harvester

Save yourself the effort (and stained fingers) with our unique "Huckleberry Comb" Berry Harvester. Made in Germany and based on a centuries-old design. We recommend this harvester for small, round berries—think blueberries, cranberries, and, of course, huckleberries. Slide the front tines under a particularly full stem, pull taut, and use a short snap of the wrist once you feel pressure. (We don't recommend this for harvesting soft, seedy berries like raspberries or blackberries, which are too delicate and should still be picked by hand). Constructed of beech and galvanized steel. 8" long x 5 ¼" wide.

J/ Traditional Glass Wasp Traps

The time-honored way these work is that the wasp (or hornet, yellowjacket, or fly) is enticed by a sweet liquid to fly up into the jar through the hole in the base. Once inside, the bug will invariably drown. When full, simply pull out the stopper and empty the Trap. Hang from any convenient branch, nail, or hook. Exact replicas of an antique Victorian wasp trap we came across years ago, handmade now for us in Mexico by a small custom glass-blowing firm. Each is about 5½" tall and 4" wide, and each comes with its wire hook and a genuine cork stopper. Some variation in size should be expected.

K/ Safety Garden Gloves Really Protect Your Hands

These Safety Garden Gloves provide maximum protection against punctures as well as superior cut protection. They excel at handling cacti or plants that have severe thorns. Washable, breathable, and stretchable. (The initial stiffness of the puncture-proof material will ease quickly with use.)

E/ 25" Long All Purpose Shovel

Professional gardeners like to work with efficient tools that let them get the job done fast and with as little "tool-fuss" as possible. A really good short-shaft shovel like this one is very hard to find and rarely finds a place in a DIY retail garden shop. It's fabulous when grubbing around and digging on your knees close to new planting. It excels when working in raised bed. This pointed shovel is made by a US firm that makes tools exclusively for professionals. The alloy steel blade and handle are carefully heat treated to be exceptionally strong and fully welded. It's a great "all-rounder". It's a very fine tool for the enthusiastic home gardener. Highly recommended. H/Professional Gardener's Digging Tool

There is something very impressive about this rugged tool. 12" long, it's designed and made by a USA firm that only makes tools for the professional arborist/gardener. Professionals need to work with tools that are super-sturdy. The 7" long, curved blade is welded at a right angle to the handle, and one edge is deeply serrated - and sharp - to cut roots and vines. The grip is large, so that it is "all business", and the hand-guard keeps the knife from burying itself in the soil. The belt loop holster lets you keep it at the ready. And the tough alloy steel blade is specially heat treated for strength. This is a world-class tool that we are very proud of; we think you will agree. 12" overall.

Long Reach Tools

Expands
to 19ft.

A/High-Reach 19 ft Pole Saw
This is a professional grade tool that will save you from having to call that expensive tree service. The pole is made in the USA and paired with a razor-sharp Japanese made blade. The very long pole is a set of three, easy to assembly, 6 foot interlocking fiberglass handles topped off with a 15" long curved cutoff blade. It enables you to cut off - without the dangers of climbing - those otherwise impossible-to-reach branches you need trimmed. The back of the frame that the blade is mounted on functions as a branch "hook" to pull them down after cutoff if needed.
86B01.06 Hi-Reach 19ft. Pole Saw $209.00

B/ Long Reach Pruner (Extends to 1.5m)
An extra-long pruner to grab and cut those higher branches in your backyard or orchard. Our Five-Foot Extendable Pole Pruner will come in handy with a whopping 60" reach. It has four locking lengths increments of 55", 50", 45", and 40". The blades cut cleanly and quickly, and the adjacent jaws grip and hold your cuttings for easy control and clean up. It's perfect for trimming small to mid-sized branches above your head or harvesting whole branches of fruit.
11G12.34 Long Reach Pruner $49.95

SALE C/ Arborist Large Raker-Tooth Pruning Saw
Unlike many pruning saws, this 20" model has "rakers" (the gaps between the tri-cut teeth) for fast removal of sawdust from the cut. This is especially useful when cutting larger branches. It excels at cutting green wood that produces damp sawdust - but will not perform as fast as a standard pruning saw (one without rakers) when cutting dead wood. The rakers are omitted from the end of the blade - start your cut in this area. The ergonomic handle has a cushioned insert that makes the saw very controllable for long periods, and it's surprisingly lightweight for its size - it weighs a very well balanced 16oz. This is an excellent complement to the standard non-raker) pruning saw at a very affordable price.
68C01.02 Raker Tooth Pruning Saw $58.90 $45.90

D/ Arborist Long Reach Cutter/Trimmer
This long reach Cutter is strong but light, with durable aluminum alloy handles. The cutting jaws are sharp and easily activated with the wide giraffe-style handle action, and the cutting head can also be rotated - a big plus in crowded branch situations. A hook on the back aids in grabbing and pulling down loose branches, and a handy removable nylon harness is included to give your back a break when putting in long hours carrying it around.
11G12.19 Long Reach Cutter/Trimmer $79.95

E/ Long-Reach Hand Pruner
If you need to do a bit of pruning on the other side of a fence line or in the interior of a large plant or bush, this is what you need. The 30" long shaft will easily maneuver the bypass cutter into place and a quick pull on the hand grip does the job. And it always helps save your back by avoiding stooping or overreaching. You can cut or trim close to the ground without bending - think of asparagus harvesting. It also is handy to trim the topmost stems of a high bush or fruit tree water sprouts without the need of a ladder. You won't need it all the time but when you do, it's a life saver. The handle rotates between being in line with the cutters to being at a right angle. The mid-shaft grip position is adjustable. Cuts branches 3/4" or smaller. Made in Italy.

45T02.17 Long-Reach Hand Pruner $59.95

SALE F/ Extendable Jumbo Pole Saw & Pruner
QUICKLY EXTENDS FROM 4 TO 8 FEET
With its sharpened L-shaped blade and telescoping handle, this Weeder is purpose-built as a stand-up tool, saving strain on your back. It excels at cutting weeds from between pavers, along driveway edges and even along the sidewalk. It's dead-simple to use, just jam it into cracks and push or pull along the groove. Made of strong lightweight aluminum, with a steel blade. Telescopes anywhere between 32" and 49".
11G13.03 Jumbo Pole Saw & Pruner $154.90 $99.95

G/ Telescopic Fruit Picker
With a reach that extends up to 10', there are very few places on a fruit tree that this fruit picker tool won't reach, even from the ground. A simple cutter above the collection bag, operated by a handgrip at the bottom of the pole, ensures that the fruit will drop safely into the bag (large enough to hold about 10 apples). Whether you have one or two trees or a small orchard, the telescoping fruit picker is a fine and useful piece of gear that lets you harvest your fruit trees without lugging a ladder from place to place.
11G12.18 Telescopic Fruit Picker $79.90

H/ Super-Tough & Sharp Hedge Shears & Pruning Loppers
There's nothing remotely delicate about these tools. No matter how tough the material is, these will do the job. The cutters are Drop-Forged and thicker than normal, and very sharp. The aluminum handles use more material than usual and the attachment fittings are substantial. The purpose of the design is to provide tools that are significantly more robust. The Hedge Shears even have a notch near the pivot to grip thicker hedge branches firmly. Handles on the Bypass Lopper are 22" long and the blades on the Shears are 11 1/2" long. You now have what you need to do the job. The rubber fitted ends of the handles are comfortable and very easy to grip. Substantial rubber bumpers absorb the closing jolt of repetitive work.

G/ Exceptionally Flexible Workbench Vise

ROTATES 360° & THE JAWS SWIVEL
Most bench vises have two parallel faces. Our Universal Bench Vise does that, of course (and does it well), but its genius is that it is expressly made for clamping non-parallel objects and irregular shapes. It has a 5½" jaw opening capacity, and both rubber-lined wood jaws pivot 360° along the horizontal, which means you can also face them outward to use them as a spreader. (The wood Jaws can be removed and modified to suit any project.) Mounts securely to any work surface up to 6" thick. The jaws ride on dual ¾ x 2" flat steel guide ways and are adjusted by hand with a hardened Acme screw. Because of heavy weight (32 lbs), a $10 ground shipping surcharge applies. Air shipping not available.

Features include tough ductile iron construction, a generous 5" jaw width and a 3" throat depth; a 360-degree swivel base with dual lockdown; and a head that rotates 360-degrees; and rust-resistant crinkle paint in a contemporary, matte black finish. In addition, has a 2½" pipe jaw capacity for working with round stock, and even has a small anvil. We can't recommend this highly enough, for professional and home shops alike, for doing metalwork, woodwork, carving and patternmaking. This Heavy-Duty Vise weighs an impressive 35 lbs. A $10 ground shipping surcharge applies. Air shipping not available.

SALE E/ Set of 4 Japanese Saws

Japanese saws cut quickly and smoothly, and are a joy to use. Because they cut on the pull stroke, the blade is in tension during use, so it can be thinner with a much finer kerf. On the 9½" Replaceable Blade Ryoba, one side is designed for rip cutting and the other for cross-cutting. The Special Japanese Dovetail Dozuki, excels as a joint cutting saw. The blade is 7" long with 25 tpi. Maximum depth of cut is 1¼". The Flush Cutting Saw, (blade 6" long, 24 tpi) has an extremely flexible blade with no set. It will not mark the adjacent surface. It will cut off pegs and other exposed waste parts absolutely flush. The Japanese Detail Trim Saw, has a fine-toothed, narrow blade. Tool length is 9". The 18 tpi blade is 4¼" long and ⅝" wide. Also available individually on our website.

49I01.10 Japanese Set of 4 Saws $178.00 $157.50

F/ Traditional 22" British Panel Saw

The panel saw is used for a variety of rough sawing and is one of the most common saws you will find in a traditional shop. This is a beautifully made, super sharp, 22" 10 TPI crosscut, intended for cutting across the grain, with finer teeth for a more exacting finish than a larger toothed handsaw. Notably, these can be resharpened. The handle is two-toned high gloss steamed beech wood, with brass hardware, and the Pax logo embossed on the saw plate. Made in the UK.

A/ Hand Adze

The Adze has been around almost forever, used by shipwrights, carpenters, and carvers from ancient Egypt to today. They're still coveted in artisanal woodworking tasks like beam-making, sculpture, and bowl carving. A shaped carbon steel head securely affixes to an ash handle with two ring wedges. A timeless and effective tool.

10T15.04 Hand Adze $175.00

B/ Solid Beechwood Carpenters' Mallets

A sturdy pair of traditional beechwood mallets, weighing 12 oz. and 19 oz. respectively. Taper assembled, they can be easily knocked apart for storage or transport. Used for generations by furniture makers and carpenters for driving chisels or for final fitting of parts. A very simple design that has stood the test of time. Although nominally a woodshop tool, they have great utility throughout the home: for example, while assembling knock down furniture, or forcefully "encouraging" any two surfaces to align. We've used them to drive in alignment shafts on our automotive projects, and to free up seized parts when a steel hammer would cause damage. Very highly recommended as tools all around the house and shop.

SALE C/ Historic Odd-Job

Made from 1888 to the early 1930's, and rediscovered by Garrett Wade, the Odd-Job will provoke admiring glances. It's an inside mitre and try square, a depth gauge, a scribing tool for arcs and circles, a T-square, a depth marking scribe (excellent for marking out mortises), a plumb level, and a rule. Made of solid brass and steel, and carefully machined on all sides. Hardwood Rules are brass-bound and graduated in inches and metric units.

D/ Boxed Set Engineer's Squares

Extremely accurate and perfect for setting up power tools, these are guaranteed to meet or exceed British Engineering Standard BS939 of  $\pm 0.0005$ " per linear inch. The boxed set is a great way to acquire the most useful sizes (2", 3", 4", and 6") at a great low price.

88H03.09 Set Engineer's Squares $40.00

E/ All Purpose Box Hatchet

For dirty jobs, save your fancy tools - use this instead. Part Hatchet, part hammer, part nail remover and pry bar, this design was originally used to close or open wooden tea crates - think India and the Empire. It's truly one of the most ugly tools made, but loved for its way with rough work. Length 13". Blade width 3 3/4". The rubber handle is a modern enhancement - sturdier and non-slip. It's cheap enough to allow you to get 3 and spread them around so you always have one close at hand.

08A01.02 All Purpose Box Hatchet $18.50

F/ 3-in-1 Woodworker's Shoulder Plane

When hand-cutting joinery, precise joints like tenons don't always fit quite right on the first pass. A shoulder plane is often the preferred solution. This tool is a narrow woodworking plane where, unlike a block plane, the blade extends across the entire sole so that you can trim right up into the corner of the tenon's cheek and shoulder. A shoulder plane can shave very thin bits (to a few thousands of an inch) off of ill-fitting tenons to achieve the perfect fit required for strong and lasting joints. Learn more about what makes our 3-in-1 plane so special today!

83R45.01 Woodworker's Shoulder Plane $134.90

G/ Pair of Concave and Convex Spokeshaves

For rounding wooden surfaces, there's nothing like a traditional spokeshave. They've been around since the 16th century for good reason: they work! They quickly and accurately remove stock in either convex (chair seats) or concave (round legs) form. The comfortable curved cast iron handles give you control and a steady balanced grip, and the fully adjustable steel blades are secured with screws for a tight fit. Use thumb pressure to affect the depth and angle of your cut. Holes on the handle ends make them easy to hang in your workshop. Classic woodworking tools.

83R02.24 Pair of Spokeshaves $75.00

H/ Set of Three Woodworking Tools

These three indispensable Woodworking Tools come in a lovely pine, presentation and storage box. Both planes are made of cast iron, with brass accents and carbon steel blades. Use the #4 Smoothing Plane to square and smooth boards during final finishing. The #60 1/2" Block Plane has an adjustable mouth, making it a useful all-purpose tool and to help avoid tear-outs. The 9 1/2" long Spokeshave is used for shaping and smoothing rounded pieces like table or chair legs or lamps. (Traditionally, a Spokeshave was used to shape wagon wheel spokes, hence the name). The carbon steel blade is 2 5/8" long. The pine storage box is 11" x 9 3/4" x 2 3/4" tall. A great kit for a furniture maker, or for general shop use.

83R02.11 Set of Three Woodworking Tools $264.00

I/ Professional Stropping Kit

Leather stropping removes the micro-burrs from an edge that result from any honing operation. This final step produces the razor like edges for a really sharp blade. This Kit includes two special (3 x 12") leather surfaces fixed to wooden paddles fitted with magnets that clip in the frame. Do the initial stropping with the roughened gold/gray leather and Finish stropping with the smooth. The optional Premium "English Bridle Leather" surface is also available for super finishing. This is a professional kit and will provide astonishing results. Highly recommended.

J/ Banana-Shaped Sharpening Miracle

This diamond sharpener's unusual curved shape is perfect for getting at complex curves or angles, like spurs on auger or brad point drills, or into the serrations on knives. Works beautifully whenever you need to re-sharpen or touch up a concave surface or small, difficult-to-get-at place on a tool or drill bit. Our customers tell us that this serves as a useful hack for many jobs beyond sharpening, and that it's a "must-have tool for mechanics and handymen." One customer writes: "Its tapered shape makes it useful for reaming out small ports in an engine and filing burrs in places normally unreachable. I can think of numerous, past jobs where this would have made life easier." Although the need may be sporadic, when it arises you'll want one of these around. The silver lining is that it is really inexpensive, so we recommend every shop should have one of these in a drawer. Buy a pair, and keep one in the kitchen drawer or your vehicle.

B/ Seam Ripper with Removable Head

The seam ripper's job is to remove stitches, open seams, and sometimes cut buttonholes. These are all important parts of most sewing projects, yet the typical seam ripper is so cheaply (and poorly) made, it comes by the dozen. We've changed this. Our seam ripper has a precisely machined brass body and cap, and the very best Japanese steel blade. Its weight helps keep it steady as you work. The handle is a hollow compartment for storing needles, secured by a simple cap that screws into place. Altogether, this is a tool designed to work wonderfully, look beautiful and last a lifetime. SALE H/ 45 SMD LED Magnifying Lamp

With its high-efficiency SMD LED bulbs, this is a great desktop lamp for daily office or schoolwork, or for specific tasks like model building, jewelry making, or watch repair. The 5" round magnifying lens enlarges at 3D. The 9" x 8" base is large (and heavy) enough to hold the lamp in place without a clamp system, but not too big that it takes up a lot of desktop space. Adjusts up to 14" high.

I/ Hands-Free Magnifier

There is a triple LED light on top (3 AAA batteries, not included). Additionally, there are three sets of fitted lenses: two are double lenses – one is fixed, and the other folds up and down on an interior hinge and the third is an outside rotating single eye loupe. The magnification (using the three) ranges from 1.8X to 4.8X, depending on the lenses you select.

19R05.01    Headband Magnifier    $49.95

J/ Professional Magnifying Desk Lamp

The lamp itself is fitted with 70 small switched LED lights surrounding the 5X power magnifying lens (5½ x 7") set in the 9½ x 10½" head. The magnifying lens' hinged cover can be closed to increase brightness on the surface below. The large base (7 x 11") can be placed on any level surface and is sufficiently heavy to allow the articulating head to extend up to 22" away when the stability support (shown) is pulled out from the front of the base. If this does not provide enough position flexibility, the Desk Lamp can be lifted off its base and attached to the robust surface clamp (shown) which can be clamped to any surface up to 2½" thick. The lamp head can rotate to any position up to 34" away from the clamp, a total area of 25 sq. ft.

16T01.30    Magnifying Desk Lamp    $179.90

K/ LED Professional Task Light

Superficially, this resembles an ordinary "extension lamp" found on a clerk's desk or shop table. It attaches to any edge by means of a 2" capacity screw-on clamp, rotates 360° around this base, and has a 32" extension arm with a "knee" in the middle. The magical aspect to it is that the Hood contains 60 LED hi-tech emitters ("bulbs") arranged in two rows. Each row has its own style of LED. One puts out blue-white bright white equivalent to daylight. The other row emits a classic incandescent "yellow" light common in most traditional interiors. Both rows come on when the switch in the hood is pressed. Each row has its own adjusting power button with 4 levels of output. The end result is 16 adjustable lighting options—perhaps one choice in the morning but then a different choice at dusk. The Lamp Hood is 3" wide and 19" long. It rotates up and down 180° and side-to-side, lockable in any position.

A/ Pickaroons, Ideal Log Movers

The Pickaroon is a tool for safely moving cut logs, or “rounds”, which can be pulled, rolled, and pitched where needed with a surprising degree of leverage. The heads are the same size, with different handle lengths. The longer one (31½”) is great for wrangling larger logs, the shorter (15½”) for short sections. Handles are American Hickory, nicely-shaped.

A product of our partnership with a 3rd generation forge in Germany. The Forest Axe is a full-sized tree chopper with a 31” Ash handle, a red steel safety collar and an extra thick neck. The Forest Axe is a hefty, full-sized tree chopper with a 31” handle, a 5½” long cutting edge and an extra stout neck. This is the biggest axe in our selection, with its 8½” head (from edge to poll) inches longer than comparable axes.

C/ Splitting Mauls

For splitting lumber rounds into firewood. The Pro Maul’s head weighs about 4½ lbs. and has a pair of raised cheeks that function like small wedges in difficult grain.  D/ Feldberg Log Pick

This is a true woodsman’s helper. Essentially a much larger version of our Pickaroon. It will allow you to wrangle fallen trees and cut log lengths of various sizes around your property and work area with ease. With a pair of them, you and a friend will be able to walk out of the woods any tree you can lift (or drag). Made in Germany by a third generation family business, it has a US Hickory handle and a beefy steel head. The handle measures 30 ¾” length overall, with an impressive 7” pick.

E/ Super-Sharp Japanese Axe

The 4½” laminated steel blade has a bearded shape that brings the center of gravity closer to your hand. The high-carbon edge is sandwiched between layers of softer steel that give the super-sharp edge great strength. It’s a great kindling and bushcraft axe.

- 11P23.06 Japanese Hand Axe$79.90

F/ Firewood Splitting Wedge

The practical purpose of this unusual “twisted” aluminum Splitting Wedge is that it distributes the force of a blow in two directions at once — great for knotty hardwoods and tight-grained logs. Forged in Germany from high-quality, aircraft-grade aluminum that will give rather than splinter when struck. (The tops of steel wedges tend to mushroom over time, and the resultant overhang can break off and become shrapnel.) Measures 8” x 2½” x 2”.

H/ Japanese Crosscut Timber Saw

Many of you may prefer a chainsaw for rough cutting in the woodlot, but a good handsaw is really often just the ticket for quick, safe cutting operations. This beautiful Japanese Timber saw, with its 16” long blade and progressive deep tooth pattern (for clearing chips rapidly), is a formidable tool. And the wood handle, fitted at an angle of about 30 degrees to the blade, is perfect for applying sawing pressure in even, easy pulling strokes.

I/ Classic Western Log Saw

This 30” blade saw with 4tpi cuts is the perfect choice for wet or dry round logs that need to be cut quickly and efficiently without clogging or binding up like others saws. Recommended for logs up to 12” in diameter, although larger logs may be cut with reduced efficiency. Designed by a California company that makes tools for professional arborists. A comfortable wood handhold provides a secure grip for firm cuts.

J/ 3 ft. 1 Man Crosscut Saw

Before the advent of the chainsaw, these large cross-cutting saws performed all log-bucking duties. The power produced by the 36” long, 1.5 mm thick blade can easily saw through wet and dry logs. The aggressive teeth are filed and set for cross cutting, with deep gullets every third tooth to form the so-called Great American pattern, which self-clears debris and dust as you work. The first 5” of the blade are smaller, starter teeth. Designed for one-person operation. Best for wide diameter trunks. Teeth come presharpener.

This beautiful Lantern can be hung on a nail or carried by its handle. An early 20th-century design called the Stonebridge Lantern (after its designer), and made of brass with mica windows. The candle will not flicker, even when the lantern is being moved. Sized 6¼ x 4½ x ¾" when folded flat, or 8½" high with a 4 ½" square base when set up. Light and easy to pack for camping trips. Candle and not included. Weighs only 12 oz. The Leather Case protects the lantern and keeps candles close at hand.

B/ Extra-Bright Brass Oil Lanterns

These Brass Oil Lamps are both 4" wide, but the Small Lamp is only 9" high, whereas the Large Lamp is 13". The fuel reservoir of the large lamp is larger as well, at two times the capacity of the small. What makes these particular lamps exceptional is their tall, narrow glass chimney, along with the special design of the wick and its unique elevation mechanism. The result is a much bigger flame that can actually extend smoke-free all the way up the chimney, if desired, producing a surprising amount of light. They have the inherent charm of a 19th Century lamp but throw a lot more light. The solid Copper Filling Funnel is a helpful addition when adding fuel. Both will burn either standard lamp oil or kerosene (easily available locally).

This large and exceptionally beautiful oil lamp is 11" tall, with a base 5½" in diameter and a large closed hook at the top. The glass is a Fresnel type of design, which is used to distribute the light widely. The wick is ¾" wide. E/ Heirloom Table Oil Lamps

With their sturdy bases and delicate clear glass flutes, these beautiful oil lamps, crafted in subtle shades of blue, add an elegant decorative element to any room or outside gathering. The taller lamp is a slightly lighter shade of blue than its smaller counterpart.

It measures 4" in diameter and holds a generous amount of lamp oil. Standing a full 15" tall, it casts a glow that can warm any room at any time of year. The smaller lamp is both more compact and richer in hue (more sapphire than powder blue) although it warms the room just as deeply. It stands 13" tall with the clear flute in place, and the 3" diameter base allows it to fit snugly on a narrower perch or among more delicately proportioned collectibles. And just in case the worst should happen, we also have available replacement glass separately for both the top flute and the lower reservoir. Replacement wicks can also be purchased in a set of 5. We love them as a set of two—place one of each size in different corners of the room, or by your favorite reading nooks.

F/ "Green Lantern" Naval Oil Lamp

Truly a unique item, this fully functional little oil lamp features a rounded, weighted base that allows it to tip and tilt freely on a moving surface—in theory allowing it to remain steady on a briny old sea captain's tabletop in heavy seas. In practice, it's a fun, unusual little lamp with a lively wiggle and a style unlike anything else we can think of. We love them in a set, placed around the patio or other outdoor dining area for lamp-lit family dinners and gatherings with friends. Unlike candles, they can't be knocked over, and the flame is shielded from the wind by a sturdy glass bulb. Burns clean and bright with standard lamp oil and features an adjustable ¾" wick. The familiar design of this military issue Army Flashlight has remained essentially unchanged since its introduction during WWII. In Signal mode, a small button above the switch activates the PR6 bulb when communicating via Morse code. Fully waterproof, it uses two D-cell batteries (not included). This threaded base also houses a compartment that holds 5 additional lenses: two red lenses for night vision, a blue, a white, and a diffuser lens to illuminate a greater area. A/ Spun Iron “Prospector” Cooking Pan
Gorgeous UK-made matte-black fry/baking pan. The two sturdy handles are riveted to the pan. Heats up evenly and is nearly indestructible. Spun-iron has one advantage over cast-iron: it is much lighter (generally half the weight), which you’ll appreciate as you move from stove-top, to oven, to table top. The Prospector makes a wonderful presentation dish for a quiche, fruit pie, or cobbler; or, simply make your eggs and hash in it. Pre-seasoned with flax oil to give a natural, no-stick coating. Works on all range and oven types, whether gas, electric, convection, even wood-burning. Made by a small foundry in Shropshire, UK which is, fittingly, where the Industrial Revolution started. 12” diameter x 1½” deep.

B/ Black Iron Roasting Pan
Black iron is created by spinning discs of iron on lathes and forming them over molds. The result is beautiful, comparatively lightweight cookware with a natural non-stick surface that improves with age. This beautiful, roomy Black Iron Roasting Pan comfortably accommodates all manner of items: poultry, roast beef, and veggies galore. The 1½” depth will catch drippings, hold braising liquid, or serve up a family-sized casserole or deep-dish pizza. Designed by Garrett Wade, and constructed from a sheet of iron with fully welded corners and tapered walls, it has two flanged edges to help when maneuvering it in and out of the oven. The handles are secured with iron rivets with decorative brass rivets for a touch of color. Measures 15” length x 13” width and weighs 5 lbs., 7 oz. Made in the UK.

C/ Spun Iron Steak and Burger Press
If you’ve ever had a “smashed” burger, you’ll know there’s nothing quite like the way the edges develop a remarkable crispiness while still retaining their juices. This gorgeous Iron Steak & Burger Press is made in England by a renowned foundry, and it’s perfectly sized not only for burgers but steaks or bacon, or even for grilling paninis. The oak handle makes it easy to grasp, and the ¾ lb weight creates substantial heft. Measures 7¼” diameter.
58N01.16 Spun Iron Steak Press $95.00

D/ Spun Iron Pizza Plate
The best pizzas require a superheated surface to achieve their perfect blistering crusts, whether in a pizza oven or on a ceramic or clay pizza stone. However, stoneware can sometimes be less durable than we might want—it can chip and scratch, and one accidental drop could mean rescheduling pizza night. Say hello to this nearly indestructible spun iron pizza platter, which can handle the high temperatures required—and you’ll never worry about banging it up or dropping it. Once properly seasoned, cast iron also becomes virtually non-stick, making it great for cooking all kinds of food. Use it in your home oven, your outdoor grill, or even an open fire pit. A full ¼” thick, with two easy to grab handles (even with oven mitts), and very good looking, with classic lines and a timeless rustic look.
58N01.04 Spun Iron Pizza Plate $159.00

E/ Spun Iron Baking Sheet
Made for us by a proud UK foundry. We added our own spin to the cookie sheet by asking them to expand the baking space and design it to ensure effortless removal and insertion. But perhaps the finest feature is its 2mm-thick material, which holds heat for consistent baking and deters popping, flexing, warping, or bending in the oven. Safe up to 572°F.

H/ Everyday Olivewood-Handled Knives & Cutting Board
On a recent factory visit to Thiers, France, we developed this integrated carving board & three-knife set. Made exclusively for us, the set features the three knives you use 99% of the time. They fit inside the back of the beechwood cutting board and are held securely in place with magnets. The set includes two sizes of Santoku-style knives and a Yatai paring knife. Santoku knives have a thin, light blade that turns down at the tip for precision slicing, dicing, and mincing veggies or meat. The smaller Santoku knife measures 10¼” with a 5¼” blade and the larger one measures 13” overall with an 8” blade. The 7” long yatai paring knife with a 3½” blade has a slightly curved single-edge blade ideal for seed removal and peeling. All three stainless steel knives are full-tang, meaning that the metal extends all the way from the blade through the handle. This is the strongest type of construction which allows for greater leverage and can take maximum force when navigating through thicker cuts of meat and bone. The handles are made of olive wood prized for its fine texture and rich color. The 13” x 8¼” beechwood cutting board has a juice canal to keep surfaces clean during cutting and serving. The underside features a magnetized storage compartment for each knife.
